The situation in Montreal and Quebec as a whole borders on anarchy. The possibility of Civil War may not be too far in the future. Mrs. Elva Deacon was kind enough to loan me an article which I think is well worth reading and giving some thought.

While you are reading these facts just remember this — they are not new ones, for, in May of 1919 in Germany the following were obtained from a copy of the "Communist Rules for Revolution".

"Corrupt the young, get them away from religion. Get them interested in sex. Make them superficial; destroy their ruggedness. Get control of all means of publication."

"Divide the people into hostile groups by constantly harping on controversial matters of no importance."

"Destroy the people's faith in their natural leaders by holding the latter up to contempt, ridicule and disgrace."

"Always preach true democracy, but seize power as fast and ruthlessly as possible."

"By encouraging government extravagance, destroy its credit, produce fear of inflation with rising prices and general discontent."

"Incite unnecessary strikes in vital industries, encourage civil disorders and foster a lenient and soft attitude on the part of the government toward such disorders."

"By specious argument cause the breakdown of the old moral virtues, honesty, sobriety, self restraint, faith in the pledged word, ruggedness."

The above, to me pretty well covers what is taking place in, not only Quebec, but in the world as a whole. It could be part of the overall scheme to eventually subjugate us all — it's to be hoped we wake up before it is too late.

* * * *

I suppose, to cheer us up, this would be a good place to throw in one of Bill McDonald's Limericks.

There was a young fellow named Weir
Who hadn't an atom of fear,
He indulged a desire
To touch a live wire —
Most any last line will do here.

That wasn't quite what you expected was it? Maybe next time?

* * * *

You can't beat young people — this young chap was on his way to Sunday School with his collection, two nickels, clutched in his hand. His dad had told him one nickel was for collection and the other he could spend on himself. Crossing the street he slipped and fell, one nickel ran into the gutter and down the drain. The young fellow looked up and said, "Lord, it looks like I just lost your nickel."

* * * *

That just about does it for another week. Drive carefully and be thankful that we can at least enjoy our lives here without being subject to the tensions that are part of life in the larger cities.

CECIL H. IRWIN, OF STANHOPE, NOMINATED FOR LAMP OF LEARNING AWARD

Each year, the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation presents the Lamp of Learning Award to a non-teaching resident of Ontario who has made an outstanding contribution to secondary school education in the Province. Some teachers in the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School suggested that Mr. Cecil Irwin be nominated for this award and the Haliburton County Board of Education, at its October 13th meeting, formally nominated him for this honour.

Cecil H. Irwin was appointed to the Haliburton County District High School Board at the time of its formation in 1948, as a representative of the Township of Stanhope, and was a member for the entire twenty-one year history of that educational authority. He was Chairman of the Board for four years and served on most committees, at one time or another. At the time of the construction of the Technical Wing, in 1962-63, he was an active member of the Advisory Vocational Committee of the Board. Mr. Irwin operated the Sherwood Forest Boys' Camp for a good many years and has taken a keen interest in the development and growth of young people. He attends Zion United Church in Carnarvon, where he has taken part in the life of the Church during his residence in the area.

Mr. Irwin is one of the older citizens of Haliburton County who have made a tremendous contribution to its social, political and business life.

THE GREAT WHITE HUNTER

Everyone keeps harping on Hunting Safety — when you see people with buck fever and duck fever, it is easy to understand why.

A funny thing happened to me last week, at least when I look at it now it seems funny. I spent four days hunting on Georgian Bay, a good run for ducks during migration. On Friday morning our party of five arrived at our hunting grounds at 6 a.m. I took up my position and placed my ten air-filled decoys out on the edge of the marsh about 50 yards from my hide. After half an hour when the sky began to get a little lighter, little did I know another hunter (not from our party) had placed himself a hundred yards away from me — all of a sudden I hear "POW POW". Besides scaring the life out of me, for I didn't know he was there, and so close, and it was obvious he did not know I was there I got myself ready to get a crack at the flock of ducks he was shooting at — when I didn't see any ducks flying, I took a look to see where he was. Sure enough there he was standing, with only the recoil holding him up, pointing at my decoys, ready for the third shot. I took one look at my decoys, and saw them bubbling away, slowly submerging. He had managed to bag three of them. Even our Labrador Retriever new enough not to go plunging into the water, after the shots were fired.

The sheepish looking hunter took one look at me walking towards him and said, "Gee they sure looked real to me". I don't remember what all I said to him except that if he was going to call himself a duck hunter and a sportsman, the first rule was not to shoot sitting ducks, then he wouldn't have to worry if they were decoys or not. A good lesson would have been for me to charge him ten bucks, give him his three deflated trophies and tell him to go home and cook them.

To be a hunter you must know your gun, your game, your location, the terrain, the weather, and all the safety rules involved with handling a gun. To buy a gun license and strike out into a marsh, or forest, without having a working knowledge and experience of all these things, it is like trying to cross Young Street in Toronto at rush hour with your eyes closed — it is sure nonsense.

Another crazy stunt many so-called hunters do every year is overload their boat. Because they usually have extra men in their party, dogs, equipment and extra clothing, they forget that all this is extra weight, and doesn't compare with fishing in the summer. Over-loading a boat in the fall of the year is suicide.

Deer hunting is coming up very shortly in this neck of the country, it is advisable for all hunters to check their equipment out very carefully and read up on hunting safety. It wouldn't be a bad idea for those who run camps to gather up some literature on hunting safety and tack it upon the wall of their hunting camps, I know some already have much information on the walls of their camp.

Last but not least, someone should be in charge of the booze — this is everyone's responsibility, but unfortunately every mind does not think the same with a drink in their hand. Remember sometimes it is not always the decoys that are the dummies. Play it smart and safe.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

October 16, 1970

Dear Mr. Greir:

During the past several months, many parents have asked me to what extent drugs are being used in our secondary school. Statistics or evidence that drugs are being used are very difficult to establish and we have no direct knowledge of students using drugs. There has been no evidence of the use of drugs during school time and any other information we have is based on hearsay and has taken place on weekends or evenings. If any student is apprehended either using or pushing drugs in our school, there will be instant suspension of that person.

After consultation with the Principal, Mr. John F. Rouble and others on the teaching staff, it seems there are probably fewer than 20 that use drugs with some regularity. There are a number of other students who have experimented with marijuana, hashish, or LSD. It would seem that we have a situation here that should not cause panic, when we compare it with other locations. However, we who are involved in education consider the possibility of one student being on drugs as a serious matter.

The reason for writing this letter is to warn parents that they should be aware that we do have this problem and that the habits and behaviour of their young people should be of more concern than it has been formerly. For example — if a son or daughter wants to stay away from home for a night or nights, it would be wise for the parents to be sure of what is going to take place on these occasions.

I have had many requests from parents for an educational programme for students and parents on the whole problem. At the present time, there are organizations in the community and people in the school system who are conducting investigations and trying to come up with a programme that will help the situation. As anyone who has been involved in a campaign, such as to stop smoking, knows, if the approach is wrong, it sometimes does more harm than good. Parents of the community should be assured that the school system will do all it can to help our young people escape this current affliction.

In reading an article written by Derek Sanderson, of the Boston Bruins, I note he has some comments to make about the drug use that I think are applicable and wise — "Speed, acid, heroine and cocaine only end up doing one thing for you — reducing your mind to a vegetable. Today's young people want to be where it's at, to do what grooves and impresses their friends. I used to think the world revolved around pool halls and flashy cars. I grew up in a tough neighbourhood, complete with creeps, kooks and degenerates. And the first thing I noticed was that the guys pushing the stuff were too smart to use it themselves. I've been doing some voluntary work with the Massachusetts Attorney General's Department, assisting young addicts, and so much of the problem starts with the parents. It's not enough just to tell kids drugs are bad for them; or to threaten or scare them. You have to go back to the beginning and try to understand and communicate with them. So often a kid tries to discuss something that's bothering him with his parents and they either turn him off or answer him in a series of ultimatums. You can hardly blame some kids for saying their parents don't understand them. Drugs are a dream world, but the price you pay is turning day-to-day reality into a nightmare. A bad scene."

Yours very truly,
J. Douglas Hodgson

We are sure everyone in our country was shocked and outraged at the killing of Pierre La Paorte on Saturday evening. The government will have to clear this up and we wonder if it will make for greater unity in Canada or not.

The first one will be held Dec. 19-20 and will be called the Kinsmen Early Bird Snowmobile Amateur Races. The second one is Winter Carnival Weekend and is called 'Karnival Snowmobile Kapers. One of the club's many projects is the running of a weekly Bingo at the Hyland Crest.

C.N.I.B. MEETING HELD

Recently ten members of the Haliburton County Advisory Committee of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind met in Haliburton.

Last year the objective of $1,700 for the CNIB Canvass was not met in our area, however our Campaign members agreed to put forth every effort to see that all areas of the County are canvassed this month.

Donations to the CNIB benefited seventeen people in Haliburton County with visual problems. Each one is visited personally by Mr. Claire Hilborn, our District Field Secretary, who gives them much help and encouragement. Being blind himself, Mr. Hilborn understands this handicap and is most willing, with much kindness, to be of assistance in many ways through the CNIB programme.

We trust that the people in Haliburton County will be most generous when a canvasser calls on behalf of the CNIB.

Present members of the Haliburton County Advisory Committee are: Mr. Ron Barr, Mr. Ron Curry, Mr. John Rouble, Mr. Bert Harrison, Mr. Ross Harrison, Mrs. Lloyd Watson, Mrs. Olga Black, Mrs. Lois Em-

This is where you're sure of prescriptions at reasonable cost!

Is the PARCOST symbol displayed at the pharmacy where you get your prescriptions filled?

If it is, you can be sure your pharmacist is interested in helping you obtain prescriptions at reasonable cost. Concern about both quality and cost of drugs, and interest in the patient who pays the bill, is the whole theme of the PARCOST program.

A copy of the PARCOST Comparative Drug Index that your Ontario Department of Health has sent to your doctor, is in constant use in pharmacy dispensaries. This authoritative Index of quality drugs enables your doctor and your pharmacist to see at a glance the differences in cost of various manufacturers' drugs of the same formula and strength . . . and to be aware of cost when prescribing or dispensing your prescription.

As the PARCOST program gains more and more support from physicians and pharmacists, the end result will be to lower the average cost of prescriptions in Ontario.

You can help hasten this day by always getting your prescriptions filled at a pharmacy where the PARCOST symbol is displayed.

Ontario Department of Health

The Hon. Thomas L. Wells, Minister

PRESBYTERY MEETING AT HALIBURTON

'It's the future that shapes us. The Christian Church is the future, if there is going to be any future in the world,' said Rev. J.N. Reed, M.A., President of the Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church of Canada as he addressed a recent Presbytery meeting at Haliburton. 'Do any of you, that having a place to stand, give light to the whole House of God the world? asked the President. 'Are we going to be involved in the Church or are we not?' was his challenge.

'The picture of the Church is a motion picture' said Mr. Thomas Knott a field secretary of the Stewardship Services of the United Church of Canada. 'Those who stand for the Status Quo are God resisters' he said. With reference to stewardship Mr. Knott spoke of the United and commitment. 'We need to Church as lacking in motivation see what and who we are and the potential' So often money is available for things we want, even a ski-doo, but when it comes to giving toward the work of the church, he inferred that is a different matter.

'We seek to help the Church', said Rev. Dr. Harold Vaughan, Secretary of the Division of Ministry and Education of the United Church of Canada which is concerned with vocation, recruiting, continuing education for ministers and pastoral relations. The United Church has had several Theological Colleges when one could do the job. But in the future, in view of the movement toward ecumenical co-operation only five educational institutions will give the Bachelor of Divinity Degree to graduates from various denominations including the United Church.

Rev. John Neal speaking for the Division of Missions told of friction between local ministers and the missionaries in the West Indies. Causes of this were differences in remuneration and the preference of the people for the missionaries. Added to this trouble is that of political and social unrest. 'Some of us don't know how long we can hold on' one missionary was quoted as saying.

Presbytery was pleased to commend the Presbyterian Church for the interest in co-operation between their churches and those of the United Church in the Kirkfield-Victoria Road area of Presbytery.

Ontario. Is there any place you'd rather be?

Ontarians are the kind of people who wouldn't be here if there was any place better. We are people who came from a hundred lands and stayed to build. People with backbone and brawn and a hunger to succeed. Men and women who've created a standard of living in decades that other lands worked centuries to build. If we have a flaw it's our chronic modesty. Ontarians may be proud to be Ontarians and Canadians . . . they just seldom tell anyone. From an economic point of view that's wrong. The more people we have boosting Ontario and Canada the better it is. And we've got a lot to boost with. At a time when the dollar is having many demands made on it, Ontarians can note that provincial taxes have held the line in 1970. And we had a surplus to boot. Yet, needed programs have not been neglected. The Ontario Housing Corporation for example, has housed 120,000 people to date and currently has almost a billion dollars worth of programs active in nearly 200 Ontario Communities. We need a vigorous economy of course, to support these important programs. And, that's where you come in. Though our productivity has doubled in ten years and our incomes in twelve, Ontarians don't sit on their successes. There's a demanding decade ahead full of challenges and opportunities to make the quality of our lives better yet. To meet these challenges we've got to believe in ourselves. Which, when you think about it, isn't such a bad idea.

Everytime you boost Ontario . . . Ontario and Canada get a little stronger.

Government of Ontario  John Robarts, Prime Minister.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE
IN THE PROGRESS

This column is a regular feature prepared by the Family Financial Counseling Service of the Avco Delta Corp., P.O. Box 2820, London, Ontario. All questions submitted to the above address will be answered in print or by mail. Names will not be used in print. However, all questions should be accompanied by a complete name and address.

$$$

Since many letters received indicate an awareness of practical buying and saving techniques, the column this week will be devoted to some 'do's' and 'don't's' of planning, buying and saving. The following suggestions should help you solve some of your money problems.

DO

.... keep track of your income for at least two months so that you'll know where your money is going.

.... determine how much you have left after all the necessary expenses (rent, food, clothing, payments, etc.) are taken out.

.... set up a regular saving program to cover extra things in the future—vacation, car repairs, insurance, etc., so you will have enough cash to pay for them.

.... plan your spending by pay periods so you won't run out of money between paydays.

DON'T

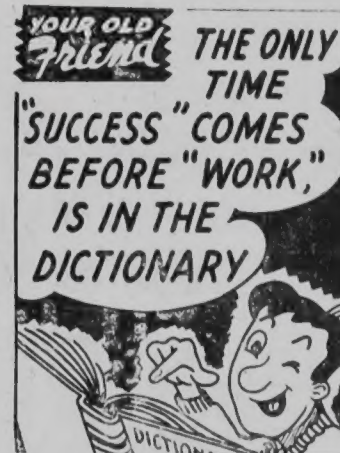

.... spend more than a week's pay in cash or sign up for any major purchase on credit without thinking about the situation overnight. You'd be surprised how less attractive the offer or deal looks in old light of morning.

.... purchase anything you don't need—no matter how inexpensive it may be—or just because it's on sale.

.... buy any item just because you can get it on credit—or because no down payments are required—or because payments are small. Whatever the case, remember that you'll pay the full price in the end plus the cost of the credit which, of course, will be more if no down payment is required or if payments are so small they will extend over a longer period of time. Make sure you can keep up with the payments before you sign up for credit (and be sure you understand everything before you sign).

.... panic if you run into a financial crisis and can't meet your payments because of illness or injury to the family breadwinner. Keep in touch with your creditors; tell them the facts, and perhaps something can be worked out for you.

Following these simple rules may not lead you into a financial utopia, but they may help keep you from running headlong into a financial quagmire.

Soundings changes its name as of Oct. 28, when it becomes Rule and Revolution. It will have a regular host in the person of Barbara Frum, a former contributor to CBC-TV's Week-end, and host of the local Toronto current affairs show, -Week-day. The series will include more investigative journalism and explanation. The producers hope to attract a special interest audience who will tune in weekly the same way readers make a point of buying Rumparts or the New Yorker. The first show in the new series zeroes in on a highly controversial subject-Suicide: Who Owns My Life? Is it the ultimate civil liberty?

The fourth edition of the annual CBC song-writing competition, Song Market '70' begins Oct. 25 on The Entertainers, for 10 weeks. A total of 31 songs, chosen out of 3000 entries, will be broadcast. Juliette and Bruce Marsh return as co-hosts, with Rob McConnell as musical director. Judges this year are singers Anne Murray and Tom Banks; pop critic Ritchie Yorke and John Williams of Columbia Records. Special guest judge is Canadian-born critic - lyricist Gene Lees, whose well-received series, The Words and Music is being repeated on Variety Pak.

Winnipeg writer William Yankeiwicz is at it again with another drama about a mythical one-industry small town in Saskatchewan. Big Boom at Buffalo Springs will be heard on Theatre 10:30 the week of Oct. 26. Producer-director Dan Wood calls it a 'significantly humorous play'.

Winnipeg born Zara Nelsova first took up the cello at the age of four, a formidable feat for a youngster when you consider the instrument would have been more than twice her size. Undaunted she persevered and is now part of the famous cello-piano team with her husband Grant Johannesen. They are the featured performers on CBC Thursday Music's Celebrity Recital in Oct. 29, playing sonatas by Beethoven, Hindemith and Chopin.

Between the time Valadimir Nabokov left Russia and before he became an American citizen, he wrote a strangely prophetic satirical book, The Waltz Invention. In 1966 it was published in English, translated by Nabokov and his son Dmitri. Since then it has been performed, as a play, in both Oxford and the U.S. Now it has been adapted for the radio medium, as Cohen's Choice for Oct. 27. Paul Kligman stars as Salvator Waltz the mad inventor.

The U.S. Congressional Election is coming up Nov. 3. While these elections are not usually very important (at least to Canadians) this year it's a little different, because President Nixon is a Republican while the Senate and the House of Representatives are controlled by the Democrats. Reporting on issues of the campaign on Sunday Magazine, Nov. 1, and other regular newscasts will be Colin Godbold, CBC Washington correspondent, and Lloyd Bulmer, senior program editor for one of the CBC's most popular radio programs, The World At Eight. Bulmer is a veteran of U.S. elections and conventions since 1948.
